Iron Works, Mills, & Valuable Lands

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers for sale the well known Malbro' Iron Works, situate in Frederick county, State of Virginia, adjacent to which are 8,500 acres of Land which he will also sell with or without the Works, The said Mills and Iron Works are situated on Cedar Creek a large and never failing stream which is applied to working the Forge. The Furnace, Merchant, Grist and Saw Mills are worked by the water of the big spring which arises at the distance of about 1-4 of a mile from the Mills and Furnance and is more than sufficient for the aforesaid purposes. The command of water from those two streams is so advantageous and abundant as to admit of the erection of any other branches of manufactory which may be thought eligible. On a part of the lands is an inexhaustible bank of Iron ore, equal or superior in quality to any on the continent. The Iron Works are at present out of repair but might in a short time and at small expence be put in blast. The Manufacturing Grist and Saw Mills are lately repaired, and are now in complete order for business The times of sale will be made known and documents authenticating the title to the property with a plot of the lands and certificates of the quality of the ore will be shewn on application to Josiah Watson, jun. No. 43 North Third-street, Philadelphia, or the subscriber in Alexandria.

TAKE NOTICE,

THAT I am to be sold on such terms, that the purchaser need not advance any cash, unless he pleases, till it is earned by my services, provided no accident happens me; or, if you please, I am to be farmed out for two years, and not less. I am a bright bay, full 15½ hands high, of noble descent, my name is TRIMMER—I was got by Hall's imported horse Eclipse, my dam, purchased by Doctor Hall, was got by the imported horse Slim; my grand dam was got by Old Figure; my great grand dam by Taskers Othello out of Selima, &c. &c. as will more fully appear by William Lyle's attested certificate who raised me. My character as a racer is well established; I won the colt's purse at Bladensburg of twenty guineas; I won a fifty guinea purse at Baltimore, a fifty guinea purse at Annapolis and a fifty guinea purse at Hagerstown. I never lost a race but the last I run at Alexandria, which was owning to my being badly shod, as I lost all my plates before I got in. I am in fine plight, found in every respect; my offspring are in great repute, some of which are now in training for the turf—procure me good stands and entertainment and I am able to earn one thousand dollars per annum.

Yesterday afternoon M. Ruffo, the Neapolitan ambassador to the French Republic, left Paris to return to his court. His secretary of legation will remain here as charge d'affaires.

11 Frimaire, Dec. 1.

Some symptoms of commotion have manifested themselves in the department of Saone and Loire. A part of the garrison of Dijon has been sent thither to suppress the insurgents.

Letters from the western departments announce that attempts are making to re-organize the Chouans; and that the country is infested with robbers, particularly the department of the Cotes du Nord.

We are informed also from Strasburgh, that the cantons in the neighbourhood of the vast forest of Haguenan are again ravaged by a band of brigands, who have at their head one Weber, who escaped lately from the prisons of that city.

If we can believe a letter from Trieste, admiral Nelson was expected in that city, to take on board, perhaps, the Austrian troops destined for Naples.

12 Frimaire, Dec. 3.

Some here endeavor to make it be believed, that the intelligence respecting the capture of Mahon, by the English, is premature; but unfortunately it appears to be too certain. It is confirmed by the last letters from Spain: they all agree in stating, that the English landed in considerable force, and that the place was immediately given up, as the fortifications, having been razed at the end of the last war, were not in a condition to make any resistance. Besides, the inhabitants who had been so long under the British government, and were accustomed to their manners, do not seem to have made much opposition. The British troops, which effected this conquest, were those that lately sailed from Lisbon on a secret expedition.

This conquest is of great importance to the English, as it will afford excellent shelter to their fleets in the Mediterranean.

A letter from Madrid, dated 16 Brumaire, (November 6) says, "We have just received from the Indian Seas the following intelligence, which gives us much pleasure: It is an account of a complete victory gained by the brave General Avala, who commanded a squadron of three ships and two frigates, have fallen in with an English squadron of nearly the same force, and after an obstinate battle, sunk one, and obliged the rest to strike."

A letter from Constantinople, dated 4 Brumaire, October 25, says, "Calan Pacha, governor of Damascus, has been named Seraskier (commander in chief) of the army destined to act against Buonaparte. According to the latest advices, the number of the army assembled in Syria, was very considerable. They were to begin their march about the 1st of Vendemaire, September 22.

A Russian corvette, a brig, and a transport, arrived successively at Boyoukdera, where they cast anchor, probably in order to wait for the second division from Sebastapole, which is to reinforce the fleet of admiral Uschakow, in the Mediterranean.

The Ottoman and Russian squadrons touched some days at Scio, in order to procure provisions. Two Russian frigates sailed thence for Alexandria, accompanied by six Turkish vessels, with ten gun-boats and bomb-ketches. We have since learned that the combined squadron was seen near Milo.

The naval force which the French have still in the old port of Alexandria, are, le Causse and the Dubois, of 64 and 56 guns; la Junon, le Cancre, le Muiron, of 40 guns; l'Alceste, le Courageuse, la Mantone, le Leoben, of 26, and le Montenotte, of 34; le Rivoli, le Salamine and le Alerte brigs; la Portugaise, l'Oranger, l'Aglae, bomb-vessels; la Negresse, la Chasseur, l'Independant, le Vif, and le Chien de Chasse, cutters, with la Victoire galley; total of the crews 4953.

The flotilla of the Nile, under the command of rear-admiral Parree, consists of le Cherf chebec, le Revanche, demi-chebec, and la Capricieuse, le Sans Quartier, le Pluvier, l'Etoile, and l'Eclair cutters; la Coquette and l'Amoureuse demi-galleys, and l'Helene, la Victoire and l'Esperance gun-boats.

These vessels are blockaded by the division under commodore Hood, who has before Alexandria the Zealous, of 74 guns, the Goliah, of 78, the Swiftsure, of 74, with the Alcmene, Emerald, and la Bonne Citoyenne frigates. There are before Damietta, one ship of the line, two frigates, la Fortune chebec, and la Torride, and le Leger cutters. These three last vessels were taken by commodore Hood. Le Leger had lately come from Toulon.

NAPPER TANDY.

HAMBURGH, NOV. 27.

The vessel in which Tandy and his companions had been on the coast of Ireland, was driven by a storm on the coast of Norway, from whence, apprehensive that in navigating the north sea, they should fall in with some English cruizer, they resolved to proceed to France by land. Intelligence of their route, was received at Hamburgh shortly after they had arrived there (on the 22d of November.) They were traced to the inn bearing the sign of the arms of America: Sir James Crawford, the British minister, immediately, waited on the chief magistrate to request a warrant to arrest those persons as subjects of Ireland, in rebellion against their sovereign, but could not obtain it: not discouraged, however, he three times again applied, and at length obtained an order of the police to the required effect. On the 24th, soon after four in the morning, Sir James led the officers of police, attended by a guard, to the American Arms, which he completely invested, waited till the doors were open between five and six, when he entered with his escort, which instantly occupied every passage. The master of the house was then called, who on being asked for the strangers by their travelling names, shewed their several apartments. Early as it was, Napper Tandy was found writing. The officer who entered his room, demanded his passport, which he, with much confidence said he would produce, and going to his trunk took out a pistol, which presenting at the officer, he said, "This is my passport!" The officer, however, being a man of uncommon bodily strength, seized and wrested the pistol from him; at which time the guard, called by the scuffle, entered the room, and secured Mr. Tandy, who together with his associates, were shortly after put in irons, and by order of Sir J. Crawford, confined in several guard houses.

No sooner had this event transpired in the morning, than citizen Marragon, the minister of the French republic, sent a note to the Senate claiming Napper Tandy and his colleagues as French citizens, and threatening to quit Homburgh, if they were not released. Sir James Crawford, on the other hand, opposed the demand in terms equally strong.

In this perplexity the Senate held an extraordinary deliberation, at five o'clock on Saturday evening, which lasted till midnight. Yesterday another meeting was held, but the result is kept profoundly secret.

This, however, is certain, that the Senate, against the will and representations of Sir James Crawford, has ordered two of the prisoners to be unironed, what their fate will be, cannot yet be ascertained.

Napper Tandy is in a bad state of health.

The French charge des affaires, citizen De Maitre, apprehensive of the fate of the prisoners, offered a considerable sum of money to an officer of the Hambugh regulars, who had the guard, to permit their escape; but he indignantly refused, and proclaimed the attempt to dishonor him. Sir James Crawford, and citizen Marragon immediately dispatched to their respective courts the particulars of this important event.

November 30.

The Irish state prisoners continue in close custody. B. Blackwell has, as well as Tandy, been relieved from irons, on the remonstrance of the French minister.

December 4.

It is generally believed that Tandy and Blackwell, being claimed by France, the first as a general of Brigade, and the other likewise bearing a commission in their service, will be liberated. The fate of Morris and Peters, who continue ironed, appears certain as no powers interfere to avert their punishment.

December 12.

We understand that a letter from Mr. Smith, at Constantinople, has the following paragraph:

"The French that landed in this country and attempted to revolutionize Albania with two general officers at their head, to the number of 150 are taken, and 60 of their heads are now on poles before the Seraglio."

The same letter says:—"We hear that Buonaparte has consented to the pressing instances of his army to return to France, at least to Alexandria, and aboard the transports and Venetian razees."

On both these subjects we may look for information by the mail that became due this day.

December 13.

Advices received overland yesterday enable us to give the following interesting extracts from the Bombay Courier of July 28, 1798.

"If any dependence were to be placed upon the appearance of Mahratta affairs, some new commotion is not far distant. Nana Furnavese has been brought from his station to Scindia's camp, in the neighborhood of Poonah. An army of considerable strength belonging to the Nizam, and said to be in concert with the Poonah Circar, is on its march to the Mahratta capital, and has passed the frontier. The Peshwa is said to entertain doubts of his personal security; and the city to be in daily apprehension of plunder. The destructive effects of these intestine feuds are obvious—the neighborhood of the armies has become a desert, and trade almost extinct—until the intrigue explodes, the semblance of friendship disguises the extreme of perfidy.

Extract of a letter from the Isle of France, dated April 5, 1798.

"The villanies of former governors are trifles light as air to what I have now to relate. The committee of public safety is no more. It has given place to a permanent committe of seven, taken from the Colonial Assemble, who have resigned the right of inspecting their actions. The only law existing is the supreme will of these Heptarchs. Poor Malartie in his palace is a puppet, or rather a doge, who, if he dared to displease them, would indeed be wedded to the sea.—Their first great object is the transportation of suspected dangerous persons.—When a Frenchman has been guilty of avowing a criminal love for France, he is dispatched instantly on board the first ship no matter where bound; the convenience of the commander of the vessel is not consulted. Some have received a convenient hint, that as the muster-roll was not to be charged with the names of the disaffected—Dead men tell no tales. On the arrival of a pair of Ambassadors from the King of Mysore, little Malartic was ordered to issue out a flaming proclamation, unfolding all the secrets of Tippoo! it talked of the offensive and defensive alliance that mighty potentate means to enter into with the Republic, one and indivisible; inviting our brave youth to rally round his banners. The Prenеuse French frigate has landed about 200 persons to assist Tippoo. M. de Buc, 2d captain of the Prenеuse, remaining at Mangalore as master attendant, with a salary of 500 pagodas a month."

December 14.

This morning Mr. Fawkener arrived at the secretary of state's office with dispatches from sir Morton Eden, at the court of Vienna, containing an account received there of the destruction of Buonaparte's army in Egypt, and of that general being now dead.

We do not find, however, that the account received at Vienna rests on any good authority: it was only a general rumor there, and as such has been forwarded to this country.

Admiral Dickson is now at Yarmouth. He is to take upon him the command of the North Sea fleet, in the room of lord Duncan, who leaves that station.

A mail which left Dublin on Saturday last, has arrived, but brings little new. The proposed union is still the prevailing topic of conversation in that capital.

We are extremely sorry, says a morning paper, to learn, from the best authority, that notwithstanding the great lenity shewn by the marquis Cornwallis to the Irish in rebellion, it has been discovered that they are at this moment swearing in great numbers as United Irishmen. The manufacture of pikes has been found to be going on in an alarming degree, under the expectation of receiving assistance from France.

December 15.

MURDER of BUONAPARTE, and his Officers.

Although the advices, which reached us on Thursday, led us to expect some very favorable news from Egypt, yet our most sanguine hopes could not have anticipated the glorious news received yesterday, and which will form a pleasant addition to lord Nelson's victory.

Yesterday morning early Mr. Fawkener, a king's messenger arrived, at the secretary of state's office, with dispatches from sir Morton Eden, his majesty's minister at Vienna, dated the 3d inst. He landed at Harwich the preceding night from a bye-boat hired at Cuxhaven, as he was directed to make every possible expedition to England. The advices, brought by him are as follow:

On the 2d inst. an extraordinary courier arrived at Vienna, with letters to baron Thugut, from baron Herbert the imperial internuncio at Constantinople, dated the 17th November. These letters state, that general Buonaparte having been made acquainted with the intentions of the Arab chief, Mourad Bey, who was marching towards Cairo with very considerable force to attack him, summoned a council of war, to which some of the leading men among the natives, who professed friendship to his views, as well as all the superior officers of his own army were invited to attend, in order to consider of the best means of defending the country, and of levying impositions on the inhabitants to pay the troops.

Buonaparte having opened the business of the meeting, a gentleman from Tripoli, who was present, drew a pistol and shot Buonaparte dead on the spot. The native officers followed the example of the Tripolitan gentleman, by falling on the other French officers, all of whom were put to death.—This proceeding was the signal for a general massacre of the French who were at Cairo; and as Mourad Bey was rapidly advancing, it was expected that very few of them would escape to tell their own tale of what had happened.

Such are the accounts received from Sir Morton Eden. Independent of the official manner in which they come to government, they are rendered highly probable by every information hitherto received from Egypt—This event was evidently the result of a bold conspiracy formed to get Buonaparte and his superior officers together; and having dispatched them, to cause a general rising on the French troops who were dispersed over the immense city of Cairo. The many intercepted letters from the French officers in Egypt, are the best testimony of the aversion of the natives of the country to their barbarous invaders; and they now seem to have ample revenge for the horrible barbarities committed by Buonaparte and his officers, who delivered up the town of Alexandria to pillage and fury for four hours.

But the above is not the only news contained in sir Morton Eden's dispatches. The Pacha of Rhodes having landed at Abouki 8000 Barbary troops, who are the flower of the Mahomedan militia, attacked the town of Alexandria, which was retaken without much resistance. The particulars of this capture are not known: but it is probable that all the French garrison remaining there has been put to the sword. The destruction or capture of all the French shipping in that port will now become a matter of course.

December 17.

Yesterday arrived the mail from Hamburg due last Wednesday. Although it brings no news of a decisive nature in regard to public affairs on the continent, yet the correspondence by it is rather interesting than otherwise.

Every thing indicates approaching hostilities; but the season of the year must prevent for the present any operations in the North of Germany. The archduke Charles has established his head-quarters at a town called Montort, adjoining the country of Grisons. The imperial troops, quartered in Bohemia, have marched partly to Tyrol and partly to the Lake of Constance; they are to be replaced by the Russians, who, it is supposed, will act against general Jourdan, and defend Franconia and Lower Suabia. This is, perhaps, one of the reasons why the command in chief of the Russian army has been given to Prince Ferdinand of Wirtemberg, who is peculiarly interested to defend the dominions of his brother.

Prince Frederick of Orange has assumed the command of the Imperial army in Italy, composed of 120,000 men. General Joubert, commander in chief of the French army in that country, has also entered upon his functions, and has ordered all the Austrian officers to quit the territory of the Cisalpine Republic.

Notwithstanding these public appearances, the foreign gazettes throw out many hints that the Directory is actively employed in endeavoring to negociate a general peace.—The Strasburg Gazette of the 27th ultimo, speaks very positively on this subject. It states, "that Citizen Seyes, who resides at Berlin, has received directions relative to a general peace, and even to negociate with England." Some people will, no doubt, endeavor to couple this paragraph with Mr. Grenville's mission to Berlin.

The Dey of Algiers has ordered his corsairs to take every French vessel that they may fall in with.

Bashaw Aly, governor of Jamaica, has taken possession of three places in the late Venetian Dalmatia, occupied by the French. The capture of the antient Venetian islands of Cerigo, Zante, and Cephalonia, by a division of the combined Russian and Turkish fleet is confirmed; and it further appears, that the same squadron had taken the port of Corfu, and forced the French garrison of the island to retreat towards Mezzo, and to throw itself into that fortress.

To judge by the most recent accounts from Italy, respecting Malta, we may daily expect the welcome intelligence of its surrender to lord Nelson. The inhabitants of Corsica are also endeavoring to expel the French from that island.

The Batavian Legislature has laid on no less than four different taxes on income and capital, to cover the public expenditure for this and the next following year. We recommend to our Opposition to compare this financical measure with that which has been proposed by Mr. Pitt.

Nothing further will probably be known for some days in corroboration of the news received on Friday from Constantinople.—We have given the facts precisely as they were received by government, and there are many concurrent circumstances which tend to confirm the truth of them, as far as regards the assassination of Buonaparte and all the superior officers whom he had summoned to his council at Cairo, and also as to what relates to the capture of Alexandria.

It is said by some, that Baron Herbert, who forwarded the news to Vienna, had been once deceived in regard to the burning of the transports at Alexandria. Granted that he had been; this very circumstance would render him cautious how he received other reports of a similar nature, nor would Sir Morton Eden have dispatched a special messenger in such haste, had not the fact been well authenticated from various quarters. In respect to the recapture of Alexandria, we know by former advices, that the Pacha of Rhodes was gone to attack it with 8000 men. The garrison was not only weak, but much in want of provisions and water.

This news cannot fail to make a very sensible impression throughout the French armies in Europe, as well as the interior of France; and it will tend to confirm the opinion that has been generally entertained that Buonaparte and his followers were only sent to Egypt to silence importunities, which the Directory could neither get rid of, nor satisfy.

We are concerned t learn by letters from Plymouth, that La Resolue French frigate, which formed part of the Brest expedition to Ireland, and was captured by the Melampus, has been burnt in Plymouth. Particulars not known.

We also learn that the famous Jacobin Jean Bon St. Andre, whom our readers will recollect as having been the commissioner of Robespierre on board the fleet which engaged Lord Howe on the glorious 1st of June, and who, on his return to Paris, congratulated the Committee of Public Safety on the triumph of that day, has at length met the fate which he long since merited. He was consul at Smyrna, and at the breaking out of the war with the Porte, was thrown into confinement along with the other French residents in Turkey. Having behaved with great violence in his captivity, the Turkish government ordered him to receive the bastinado, and has sent him to keep company with the galley-slaves. May he long live to practise the favorite virtue of Republicans—Equality, among those people!

There is no reason whatever to doubt the truth of the above intelligence, as it was confirmed by several vessels which arrived at Constantinople from different parts on the day preceding the date of the dispatches.

The Navy Board has purchased the hulls of the following prizes taken by Lord Nelson, at the sum of 117,000l. viz. the Franklin and Tonnant, of 80 guns; the Aquilon, Conquerant and Souverain Peuple, of 74 guns. The two last ships were only valued at 5000l. each, the Franklin at 30,000l.

Lord Hugh Seymour sets off for Portsmouth in a few days, to re-hoist his flag, and proceed to Lisbon, on which station, as he is expected to continue some time, Lady Horatio will accompany him; his Lordship will, some time hence, change the Portugal for a more distant station, it is thought the East-Indies, as successor to admiral Rainier, whose time is nearly expired.

LEGHORN, November 8.

The day before yesterday the court set out for Pisa. Yesterday evening we were expecting letters from Venice, and had not received those due from Germany, when we saw an estafette arrive, dispatched by our minister at Bologna, with the news that the courier had been arrested in that city, and all his letters and packets taken from him. Our government immediately held a council, to which the Cisalpine minister was invited to repair. When he arrived at the place where the sittings of the councils were held, that minister heard the report of what had taken place.

It was represented to him, that this was not the conduct to be shewn towards a loyal court. The Cisalpine minister answered that he was in no ways informed of the fact complained of. Being preſſed to interpoſe his authority to obtain reparation, he replied, that it was not within the ſcope of his miniſtry ſo to do. The government, mortified at his conduct, immediately ſent an eſtafette to the Marquis de Manfredini, who had accompanied the count to Piſa. It is certainly by the advice of tht Miniſter, that one of the Directors of the port ſet out today for Milan, where it is known the packets taken from the courier were conveyed.

It is believed that the object of this kind of proceeding was to diſcover what are the relations which exiſt between the Courts of Vienna, Naples, and Florence It is certain there is a very intimate correſpondence between them, but it is pretended there is nothing hoſtile in it. We are aſſured the Grand Duke employs the aſcendancy he has over the Emperor his brother, to whom he is tenderly attached, to divert him from war.

FLORENCE, November 10.

The Court is much occupied on the preſent ſtate of affairs. There are long Council of State held every day. It was reported that preparations for defence had been made, and that this was the object of the journey of the celebrated Manfredini to Vienna But it is now ſaid, that the Government will preſerve a ſtrict neutrality. We are not without fears for the ſafety of Leghorn.

Extract of a letter from Scilly, dated December 15

"It is with much concern I acquaint you with the loſs of the Colloſſus man of war, of 74 guns, Captain G. Murray, on the night of Monday the 10th inſtant, in St. Mary's Road, Scilly.

"On Friday the 7th inſt. the above ſhip came in with a direct contrary wind, having under her convoy eight veſſels from Liſbon, but arrived at the ſame time, the reſt of the fleet having parted two days before for England, and the northern ports in the even ing the wind having increaſed to a gale, the cable parted, and all attempts to ſave the ſhip with others failing ſhe drifted on a reef of rocks, called Southern wells, near the Iſland of Sampſon, from 18 to 24 feet water, all the convoy riding in ſafety then, and ſince, notwithſtanding the wind has ariſen to a perfect tempeſt, moſt fortunately not a life was loſt ſave quartermaſter Richard King, who dropped overboard in the act of ſounding.

"The Iſlanders, at a very great riſk, exerted themſelves to the utmoſt, in cutters and ſmall boats, and by Tueſday evening every perſon was taken out and ſafely landed, the ſick and wounded firſt, whereof many were left in the battle of the Nile, the moſt worthy Captain, and moſt to be commiſerated, remaining to the very laſt. The following night the ſhip fell on her ſtarboard beam ends, and ſo violent was the perſevering gale that no craft could attempt to approach the ſhip, and at preſent little proſpect of ſaving of any of the ſtores, property, or even the officers baggage being ſaved, or hereafter recovered to any extent.

"The ſhip is ſaid to have been diſtreſſed, in order to ſupply other veſſels of his Majeſty's fleet, and alſo to have been in a bad ſtate before, and worſe ſince ſhe left Liſbon. The mainmaſt and bowſprit are already gone by the board.

"On the 9th arrived the King George packet, from Liſbon, in three days to Scilly and for the moſt part E. S. E.

December 19.

"This day no leſs than ſix mails arrived from Dublin. The only buſineſs that ſeems to occupy the public mind in that city is the projected Union—a meaſure which will certainly meet with much oppoſition from many conſiderable bodies in Ireland. The Iriſh Bar held a meeting on the buſineſs on Sunday the 9th inſtant, which was numerouſly attended. We cannot this day find room to tell the proceedings, which after the animated ſpeeches, were concluded by the following reſolution:

"Ambroſe Smith, Eſq. Father in the chair

"Reſolved "That the meaſure of a legiſlative Union of this kingdom and Great-Britain, is an innovation which it would be highly dangerous and improper to propoſe, at the preſent juncture to this country."

"The Lord Mayor of Dublin has compliance with a requiſition to call a meeting of the Bankers and Merchants of that city.

The meeting was appointed for yeſterday. "to take into conſideration a meaſure of the utmoſt importance to the kingdom." The Union no doubt is intended by the expreſſion uſed.

A letter by the Liſbon Mail of this day contains the following paragraph:

"It is reported here, and the report is credited, that Minorca has been captured by the Engliſh forces under general Stuart. We have alſo a report that General Buonaparte and Berthier have been killed, and the French army in Egypt, deſtroyed.

FALMOUTH, December 16.

Arrived, the King George Packet, captain Bell, with the mail from Liſbon, after 14 days paſſage. She fortunately put into Scilly one day before the late heavy gale of wind came on. We are ſorry to learn by her the loſs of his majeſty's ſhip Coloſſus, of 74 guns capt. P. Murray, which ſhip alſo put into Scilly, but unfortunately parted her cables and got ſhore. There was juſt ſufficient time for the crew to ſave themſelves when ſhe went to pieces. She came as convoy with the fleet from Liſbon, which were ſeparated in the late gales The King George brought four paſſengers from Liſbon and Lord Harcourt, from Scilly who came (with the body of his father-in-law, Lord Shuldham, embalmed) in the Coloſſus Lady Shuldham is expected in the Prince of Wales Packet. AN INTERESTING LETTER.

from one of the London Papers.

"Although a few events which I foreſaw in my laſt have been completely verified, there have been enough to rouſe the Auſtrian Low Countries to inſurrection, and the flame ſeems to be creeping into the ancient Provinces of Such, that if active meaſures are purſued, the exiſting Government of France ſuddenly fall and with a cruſh. Italy will ſhake off the French and other vermin; the fortreſſes of France will be ſnatched from her, and all its Allies on that ſide will ſhake off grievous ſhackles—you may regard the annihilation of Buonaparte and his army nearly, or already effected. It was fortunate that he eſcaped purſuit of Admiral Nelſon on his paſſage, for had he been detained before landing, neither the Turks nor Ruſſians would have engaged ſo heartily and readily in the cauſe. The victory of the gallant admiral, has already produced the ſalutary effects on the minds of the Candid and individual. it has operated like a ſtrick ſhock, and rouſed the ſluggiſh, and ſpirits even in the Congreſs at Raſtadt. The King of Pruſſia, ſeems, at length, to have awoke, and the emperor of Germany is beginning to tear from his eyes the bandage which has ſo long contracted his view, and to feel the danger of his poſition, in eſtate and reputation. The King of Naples too, who never wanted the will, has, on this occaſion, muſtered all his courage, his energy and means, into a manly reſiſtance, and I do not deſpair at ſeeing Spain on the liſt of aſſociates to defend the cauſe of monarchy and humanity. Never ſince the epoch of miſtakes and diſaſters in 1793 and 1794, did ſo many favourable circumſtances combine to bring this unnatural war to an iſſue; and, I truſt, with confidence, that the natural energy, the reſources and magnamity of Great Britain, which in truth, may be deemed the ſecond Saviour of humanity, guided by divine inſpiration and wiſdom, will, impel, by its examples and victories, the ſlumbering ſovereigns of Europe to coaleſce once more to ſmother the peſtiferous monſter, which has dared ſo long to outrage all religion, all civilization, and all the rights of mankind. The Griſons have received the protection of Auſtrian garriſons againſt French invaſion, and France, unwilling to recommence hoſtilities with the Emperor, at this moment, is inſiduouſly inſtigating the Helvetic Government to declare againſt the Griſons, to the end that they may appear to take a part as allies.

Tueſday laſt the Senate approved the nomination of

OLIVER ELLSWORTH, Eſq. chief juſtice of the United States,

PARTRICK HENRY, Eſq. late governor of Virginia, and

WILLIAM VANS MURRAY, Eſq. our miniſter at the Hague—to be envoys extraordinary and miniſters plenipotentiary to the French republic, with full powers to diſcuſs and ſettle, by a treaty, all controverſies between the United States and France. In the meſſage of the Preſident information was given that "it is not intended that the two former of theſe gentlemen ſhall embark for Europe, until they ſhall have received, from the Executive Directory, aſſurances, ſignified by their ſecretary of foreign relations, that they ſhall be received in character, that they ſhall enjoy all the prerogatives attached to that character by the law of nations, and that a miniſter or miniſters of equal powers ſhall be appointed and commiſſioned to treat with them."

Extract of a letter from Governor Sevier, to a gentleman of reſpectability in Philadelphia, dated

"State of Tennessee, Knoxville, 22d January, 1799.

"I readily agree with you, that the deſigns of France are not equivocal, and that ſhe is practicing the ſame inſidious arts in America, that ſhe has before done in ſeveral of the European countries. It is eaſy to diſcover that, that nation is extremely hoſtile againſt the government of our country, and in every inſtance of her conduct, marks of inveteracy may be traced.

"It is with much pain I diſcover there ſtill remains a diſpoſition among our own citizens to foſter and cheriſh the deſigns of that hoſtile, ambitious, and deſpotic government; and ſure I am, may I be permitted to ſuggeſt the idea, that no time ought to be loſt in making defenſive preparations ſufficiently permanent, to oppoſe againſt the attacks of that inſidious nation. The late viſit of a citizen of Pennſylvania to France, is ſufficiently demonſtrative of combinations, and that plots are forming, ſimilar to thoſe between Ireland and France; this being the caſe, of which proofs are daily furniſhed in abundance, it is is eaſy to conceive what the friends of government may expect ſhould fate place it in the power of thoſe parties to exerciſe their malignant and ambitious deſires and intentions, which I pray God may avert.

"The French Nation have wantonly ravaged and plundered our property and Commerce, they have committed daring barbarities on our Citizens, and even loaded our Envoys with contempt, and egregious inſults;—having ſo done, themſelves, their Allies, their Auxiliaries ought in my opinion, to be liable for juſt and adequate compenſation."

PRINTING WORK,

Of Every Kind,

EXECUTED AT THE SHORTEST NOTICE,

At the OFFICE of the GAZETTE of the UNITED STATES.

CONGRESS,

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Wednesday, February 27.

The following bills were read the third time and paſſed.

The bill reſpecting French citizens who are or may be captured and brought into the United States; the bill altering the time of holding the diſtrict court of Vermont; the bill for augmenting the marine corps; the bill in addition to the act for the relief and protection of ſick and diſabled ſeamen; and the bill to eſtabliſh the poſt-office of the United States.

Mr. Gallatin reported a bill to authorize the ſale of certain lands between the Great and Little Miami rivers, which was twice read and committed.

The houſe went into a committee of the whole on the bill for better organizing of the troops of the United States, and for other purpoſes. This bill propoſed, beſides the better organizing of the troops, to provide an eventual increaſe of the military eſtabliſhment, and a preſent increaſe of a battalion of artillery, two companies of cavalry, and a battalion of riflemen. In the committee of the whole, a motion was made by Mr. S. Smith, to ſtrike out what relates to the preſent increaſe of the army, when there appeared 40 votes in favour of the motion, and 39 againſt it; and the chairman declaring himſelf in the negative, the motion was not carried.

When the bill came into the houſe, a motion was made by Mr. Gallatin, which went to ſay, that no part of the propoſed additional force ſhould be raiſed, unleſs further proviſion ſhall be made, or war ſhall break out between the United States, and ſome European Prince, Potentate or State, in which caſe it ſhall be lawful for the Preſident of the United States, at his diſcretion, to cauſe the ſaid regiments, or any of them, to be ſeverally completed to their full eſtabliſhment.

The queſtion was taken by yeas and nays, as follow:

Some debate took place on a motion to ſtrike out a ſection of the above act, which propoſes to repeal ſo much of the 9th ſection of the act for augmenting the army of the United States, as confines the choice of Inſpector of Artillery to the corps of Artilleriſts and Engineers, and to allow any other perſon to be appointed as ſuch Inſpector. The queſtion for ſtriking out was carried, 60 votes being in favor of the motion.

A ſection providing for a purveyor for the War department, diſtinct from the navy, was alſo ſtruck out.

The Speaker laid before the houſe a report from the Secretary of State on the claim of John Brown Cutting, for relief afforded American ſeamen preſſed by the Britiſh.—Ordered to lie.

On motion of Mr. Harper, the houſe went into a committee of the whole on the bill for augmenting certain ſalaries, viz. the Secretary of State and Secretary of the Treaſury to 5,000 dollars; the Secretaries of War and Navy to 4,500 dollars; the Comptroller of the Treaſury 3,500 dollars; the Attorney General, the Treaſurer, Auditor, Commiſſioner of the Revenue, and the Poſtmaſter General to 3,000 dollars; the Regiſter to 2,400 dollars; the Accountants of the Navy and War Departments to 2,000 dollars; and the Aſſiſtant Poſtmaſter general to 1,700 dollars. The bill paſſed through the committee without debate, and on the queſtion of its going to a third reading, after being oppoſed by Mr. M'Dowell, as being much the ſame as the bill already negatived, and ſupported by Meſſrs. Harper and Champlin, who ſaid the whole advance would only amount to 11,550 dollars a year; the queſtion was carried 52 to 43. The bill was afterwards paſſed 52 to 40, three members who voted in the negative of the former queſtion being abſent on this.

The following Statement will convince the public how thoſe who have ſigned the petitions through the leaders of the oppoſition of Government, have been miſled and impoſed upon and ought for the future to be more cautious, and not again be ſo haſty without being better informed.

The ſhip Ann, Captain Black, of this port, has arrived at the mouth of Quantico, from Portſmouth (Eng.) She ſailed from Portſmouth on the 20th December, under convoy of the Britiſh frigate Amphion; but was parted from the convoy, conſiſting of 25 ſail, on the third day, in a heavy gale of wind. AND FOR SALE BY NO, 119, CHESNUT-STREET

ADDRESS

To the People of Maryland,

ON the originall progreſs and preſent ſtate of French aggreſſion a ſketch of the infamous attempts to degrade Government of the United States, and ſome reflections on the late proceedings in Congreſs; with the laſt of April in the preſent year, by a Member of the Houſe of Repreſentatives. § june 11

WHEREAS,

BY an Act of Congreſs paſſed on the ſixteenth day of July in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ninety eight, the Preſident of the United States is authoriſed to borrow on behalf of the United States from the Bank of the United States, or from any other body or bodies politic or corporate, or from any perſon or perſons, and upon ſuch terms and conditions as he ſhall judge moſt advantageous for the United States, a ſum not exceeding five millions of dollars, ſo however, that no contract or engagement be made which ſhall preclude the United States from reimburſing any ſum or ſums borrowed at any time after the expiration of fifteen years from the date of ſuch loan. And whereas, it is declared by the ſaid Act, that ſo much as may be neceſſary of the ſurplus of the duties on Imports and Tonnage beyond the permanent appropriations heretofore charged upon them by law, ſhall be pledged and appropriated for paying the intereſt, and alſo for paying and diſcharging the principal ſum or ſums of all the monies which may be borrowed, according to the term or terms which may be fixed, purſuant to the authority aforeſaid—And whereas by the ſaid Act, the faith of the United States is pledged to eſtabliſh ſufficient permanent Revenues for making up any deficiency that may hereafter appear in the proviſions before-mentioned for paying the intereſt and principal ſums, or either of them, of any monies which may be borrowed purſuant to the ſaid Act. And whereas the Preſident of the United States did by an Act or Commiſſion under his hand dated the ninth day of January in the year one thouſand ſeven hundred and ninety nine, authoriſe and empower, the Secretary of the Treaſury, to borrow on behalf of the United States any ſum not exceeding in the whole, five millions of dollars and to make ſuch contract or contracts as ſhould be neceſſary, and for the intereſt of the United States, in purſuance of the Act of Congreſs above recited.

Now therefore, the underſigned, Secretary of the Treaſury, in purſuance of the Act of Congreſs, and the authority from the Preſident of the United States, above mentioned, doth hereby on behalf of the United States of America, contract and engage in manner following, to wit.

1ſt. A book for receiving ſubſcriptions to a Loan of five millions of dollars for the uſe of the United States ſhall be opened, in the city of Philadelphia, at the Bank of the United States on Thurſday the twenty eighth day of February enſuing, which book ſhall continue open for the purpoſe of receiving ſubſcriptions, until the whole of the ſaid five millions of dollars ſhall be ſubſcribed. If more than five millions of dollars ſhall be ſubſcribed on the firſt day of opening the ſaid loan, the ſurplus ſhall be deducted in proportion to the ſums ſubſcribed by individuals, exceeding four thouſand dollars.

2d. For every hundred dollars which may be ſubſcribed there ſhall be forthwith depoſited and paid the ſum of twelve dollars and fifty cents, and like payments of twelve dollars and fifty cents, ſhall be made within the firſt ten days of the months of April, May, June, July, Auguſt September and October enſuing. The Secretary of the Treaſury however reſerves the right of reducing the number of inſtallments by ſpecial agreements, with the individuals who may become ſubſcribers.

3d. On the failure of payment of any inſtalment of the ſums ſubſcribed according to the tenor of the ſecond article, the next preceeding inſtallment of twelve dollars and fifty cents, which ſhall have been paid, for every hundred dollars ſubſcribed ſhall be forfeited to the United States.

4th. The ſums ſubſcribed ſhall and may be paid to the credit of the United States, at the Bank of the United States, or at the offices of diſcount and depoſit of the ſaid Bank at Boſton, New-York, Baltimore, or Charleſton, or at either of the Banks of Salem, in Maſſachuſetts, Newport and Providence in Rhode-Iſland, Hartford in Connecticut, Albany in New-York, or Alexandria in Virginia, for which payments, the receipts of the Caſhiers of the Offices of Diſcount and Depoſit and of the Banks aforeſaid ſhall be received at the Bank of the United States equivalent to money; but no payment of a ſubſequent inſtallment ſhall be received at any other place than that where the firſt inſtallment was paid, except at the Bank of the United States; in caſe any depoſits ſhall be made at the offices of Diſcount or Depoſit, or at either of the Banks aforeſaid, which ſhall not be applied to the payment of the firſt inſtallment of ſubſcriptions to the Loan aforeſaid, the ſaid depoſits ſhall be forthwith refunded by directions from the Treaſury.

5th. For the ſums or number of ſhares of one hundred dollars, which may be ſubſcribed, certificates ſhall be given by the Caſhier of the Bank of the United States, which ſhall be aſſignable by indorſement, and delivery of the parties in whoſe favour the ſaid certificates may be iſſued until the completion of the payments required by the tenor of the ſecond article preceeding.

6th. The ſums ſubſcribed and paid in purſuance of the tenor of the ſecond article preceeding, ſhall after the ſaid payments have been compleated, conſtitute a funded capital ſtock diviſible into ſhares of one hundred dollars each, which capital ſtock ſhall bear intereſt at the rate of eight per centum per annum from the times fixed for the payment of the reſpective inſtallments payable quarter yearly at the Treaſury of the United States, or at the Loan Offices where the ſame may ſtand credited, until the laſt day of December, in the year one thouſand eight hundred and eight.

7th. After the laſt day of December in the ſaid year one thouſand eight hundred and eight, and after reaſonable notice to the creditors, which ſhall be given by an advertiſement in ſome public newſpaper, printed at the ſeat of the government of the United States, the ſaid capital ſtock ſhall be redeemable at the pleaſure of the United States by the reimburſement of the whole ſum or ſums borrowed, and which may conſtitute the ſaid capital ſtock either at the treaſury of the United States or at the loan offices where the ſame may ſtand credited.

8th. The credits for the ſaid capital ſtock ſhall and may be ſeparately certified in ſums either for one hundred, four hundred, one thouſand, four thouſand or ten thouſand dollars, and the credits ſo certified ſhall be transferable by the creditors, or their attornies, at the Treaſury and Loan Offices reſpectively, in purſuance of the rules which have been, or which may be eſtabliſhed relative to the tranſfer of the funded ſtock of the United States.

9th. A ſufficient ſum of the ſurplus of the duties on Imports and Tonnage beyond the permanent appropriations heretofore charged upon them, by law, together with the faith of the United States are hereby pledged for the fulfillment of this contract; in purſuance of, and according to the terms and conditions of the act of Congreſs herein before recited.

Given under my hand and the ſeal of the
(L. S.) Treaſury of the United States at Philadelphia, this twelfth day of January one thouſand ſeven hundred and ninety nine.

OLIVER WOLCOTT,
Secretary of the Treaſury.
